

PLAN OF PROGRESSIVES

Cummins to Front for 1912 Fight

WILL LEAD INSURGENTS

Against Stand Patters in Convention. Haris Defiance at Leaders—Campaign for Redemption of Party Declarations.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Political circles here buzzed yesterday over a published interview with Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, in which the former governor threw down the gauntlet to Speaker Cannon, Senator Aldrich, and other "stand pat" members of Congress, in a declaration that henceforward it would be war to the knife, and the knife to the hilt, between the progressives and the dominant faction in Congress which put through the tariff legislation. Between the lines of the talk local politicians, some of them of national reputation and prominent in party circles, saw the Iowa senator as a presidential possibility. In short, Cummins as much as said he would be willing to lead the "insurgent" forces in a battle to retire the firm of Cannon, Aldrich, Payne and company for all time. He announced that the fight would be begun in Iowa this fall, and continued in every state in the Union and in the national convention in 1912.

From the point of view of the Iowa senator the tariff never again will be an issue between Republican and Democrat, but will be a bone of much contention between rival factions of the Republican party. That the progressives will ultimately win, he appeared to be confident. He started was made when the progressives lined up against the bill pending in Washington.

The Cummins platform, on which he will begin to battle this fall in Iowa, calls for the appointment of a tariff commission. This committee he would have composed of experts, sitting in continual session for the collection of data on schedules. This information he would have at the disposal of Congress at each session.

On this he would readjust the tariff from year to year, according to international business requirements.

The Democratic party has demonstrated thoroughly its incapacity to be trusted with the formulation of a tariff law for the United States," said Mr. Cummins. "The real solution lies with the Republican party. One faction will have to make the fight between now and the next national election."

"The progressives already have indicated by their fight in Congress how the battle is to be fought. It means that it is time for a new alignment of the Republican party's forces. Seven of the ten representatives from Iowa may be called progressives. They believe that a new alignment is necessary. It is probable the fight will begin there this fall. I expect to take part in it."

"What immediate steps will be taken by the progressives?" "We shall present the issue flatly to every Republican convention between now and the national convention of 1912, where it is possible for the issue to be presented. That issue is: 'Shall the men now in control of party destinies be permitted further to disregard plain party declarations?'"

Senator Cummins was emphatic in declaring that President Taft had exhausted every resource at his command in attempting to obtain honest tariff revision, such as had been offered in the Chicago platform, and that no blame justly attaches to the president because of the failure of Congress to enact a law different from the Payne law.

Senator Cummins admitted that in order to secure a new alignment of the party forces it would be necessary to carry the fight into the national Republican committee.

"What is needed is a tariff commission," said he in conclusion. "They have such things in Germany, France and England. This would not stop the tariff, but it would put a stop to the business anxiety over changes of the tariff, and result in more justice."

He was asked to give an opinion more in detail on the tariff bill just passed.

Base Ball Notes.

"Old Cy" Young got pounded in pretty hard shape by the Naps Saturday. Jimmy Barrett is putting up a fine game for the Milwaukee team.

Herman Long, veteran shortstop of the Boston National league, and member of the Boston team under the management of the late Frank Selee, is reported seriously ill at Denver. He is well known by all base ball fans.

Reulbach and Overall of the Cubs, Camnitz of the Pirates and Fromme of Cincinnati are the only National league pitchers who have pitched one-hit games this season.

It is said that Detroit's recent purchase, Whalen, of the International league, has a fast reputation.

In the base ball games Saturday in this state, Bellows Falls shut out Windsor by a score of 9 to 0. Bennington defeated the Mohawks of Schenectady, 4 to 1. Chester trimmed Wapino by a score of 11 to 7.

JOKE ON GOV. HUGHES.

"This Is Indeed an Honor," He remarked.

This happened at the expense of Gov. Hughes. After the world's series last fall the citizens of Troy, N. Y., prepared a welcome for "Johnny" Evers of the Cubs, who lives in Troy. It happened that the governor was riding on the same train with Evers, and was scheduled to make a speech at Troy the same day the great second baseman arrived. When the train pulled up at the station a big brass band played, "See the conquering hero come," and a crowd of men and boys cheered lustily. Back of the station as far as the eye could see was stretched a line of open carriages with flags and hunting gracefully arranged. His excellency, the governor, naturally thought the reception was in his honor, and he beamed as he alighted from the train. Turning to a member of the party, he exclaimed, "This is indeed an honor. Imagine his surprise when he saw the crowd pitch on a slight youth, drag this selfsame lad to the most gaudy carriage and pull him through the streets with everybody cheering. It was the penalty of fame. To an average fan, which includes nearly nine-tenths of the male population of the land, a champion ball player ranks higher than the officers of the commonwealth and their suites."

BOLIVIA SEEKING

EXCUSE FOR WAR

Victory Over Peru Would Give Her

Chance to Demand a

Seaport.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Is Bolivia seeking a pretense to bring on a war with Peru?

This question is being asked, seriously too, by South American diplomats who are watching every development in the situation, in which Argentina, Bolivia, and Peru are directly interested, and Chili and Brazil indirectly.

Some of the diplomats profess to think that the excitement in Bolivia over the Argentine award, which was favorable to Peru, is really a blind on the part of the politicians there to bring about an armed conflict with Peru, nominally to secure a more satisfactory adjustment of the boundaries of the disputed tract but actually aimed at territorial conquest.

Bolivia has no seaport. A successful war with Peru might give her an outlet to the sea by demanding an indemnity. Moscoso has promised the southernmost province to Peru, and adjoining the Chilean frontier. In that province is the harbor of Ilo, at the mouth of the river of that name. The harbor is said to be an excellent one, and its acquisition by Bolivia would be of great advantage to her.

Much depends on the attitude to be assumed by the Bolivian congress, which opened its session Saturday. If Argentina's award is accepted that should prevent further trouble, but if Bolivia refuses to abide by that decision and proceeds to occupy the disputed territory, serious trouble is ahead.

Chili's probable attitude in the event of hostilities between Bolivia and Peru also being discussed with much animation. Her financiers have been spending considerable money in the work of railroad construction in Bolivia and the popular sympathies are believed to be with that country. Her unfriendliness to Peru dates back to the Chilean-Peruvian war of a quarter of a century ago.

With Chili's assistance Bolivia would have a decided advantage, and from the military standpoint, it is believed, could more easily effect the prior occupation of the disputed tract because of the practical impossibility of Peru's transporting men and munitions of war over the Andes and the necessity of reaching the country in a roundabout way.

Salt Lake City Captured by Veterans

DOORS THROWN WIDE OPEN

To the Old Soldiers—Tented Villages Spring Up in the Parks—Last Evening Two Big Campfires Took Place.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 10.—The occupation of the city by the Grand Army of the Republic is complete. Coming in force from all directions, the veterans have won every strategic position and command all communications.

On the program, yesterday was the first day of the 43d encampment; in practice, it was a day of glorious greeting. Edgar Allen, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans, was among the day's arrivals. He was tendered a reception by his organization last evening. The national association of army nurses is well represented. The first formal gathering was that of the Union ex-prisoners of war, who met in the Federation of Labor hall at 10 o'clock.

The national executive committee of this association met at the headquarters of the commander last evening.

Cavalry villages are springing up in the parks and the boys of '91 will soon be playing the game of war under a softened form of military rule. The beginning of the encampment finds the army fanned by cool mountain breezes and the sun in retreat. Every veteran wears a bronze badge suspended by a tiny flag from a bronze bar, which opens every door to its wearer and clears his path in a crowd. If he boards a street car the magic emblem makes him invisible to the collector of fares; should he travel to the lake or other resorts, the trainman blinds the ticket taker.

The railroads have poured their heavy passenger traffic into Salt Lake City with few mishaps, and these of a trivial character. The veterans and members of affiliated organizations are outnumbered by the tourists and sightseers. The arrivals Sunday were estimated at 6,000. All who have come have been accommodated without difficulty.

Two camp fires, one as Assembly hall in the forum square and the other at the army, were attended by the Grand Army members last night. A local celebration, the entrance of the Wizard of the Wastland and his satellites, afforded an outdoor spectacle at nine o'clock. Throughout the evening Commander Nevins of the Grand Army of the Republic, his staff, and officers of allied organizations met the visitors at a reception table in the lobby of the Grand Army hall. ### CAN'T DISPOSE OF STOCK.

Temporary Injunction Granted Against the Middlebury Marble Company.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Judge Sanderson of the superior court has issued an injunction restraining B. W. Carlow of Worcester and Frank H. Walker of Boston from disposing of 2,609 shares of stock of the Middlebury, Vt. Marble company, the certificate of which is alleged to stand in the name of Mr. Walker.

The company claims that while acting as treasurer Mr. Carlow issued the stock in question without authority. The company was organized on June 4, 1906, with a capital of $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. It acquired the Middlebury and Sterling marble properties, and to secure a bond issue of $500,000 made a deed of trust to the New England Trust company. It is the claim of the plaintiff company that stock was issued to Mr. Walker without consideration.

Rutland, Aug. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxim of Glen Falls, N. Y., were in Brandon several days endeavoring to induce their 15-year-old daughter, who married a gypsy last fall, to return home with them. The girl accompanied them to Glen Falls.

The girl when only 14 years old married Orlin M. Moser, a member of a so-called gypsy band. Her parents charge that the license was procured through misrepresentation. Moses, it is stated, told the town clerk that the girl was 16 years old, and that her parents were dead.

GIRL MURDERED AT GRAVE SIDE

Carrying Flowers to Family Burial Plot

WAS ANNA SHUMACHER

Missing Since Saturday—Body Found Half Buried in a Neglected Part of the Cemetery.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Leaving her home early on Saturday afternoon to place flowers on the grave of her father, pretty Anna Schumacher, 17 years old, who resided with her mother at 192 Cady street, this city, was attacked by one or more unknown men and after a desperate fight was murdered. Her body was dragged outside the cemetery to a depression in a lonely spot and covered with a thin layer of earth and leaves.

The body was discovered yesterday morning by constables of the town of Greece, who found marks of a struggle in the old Schumacher family plot in the cemetery, where the flowers placed on the father's grave by the girl were still fresh. They followed the marks and were further aided by the finding of a shell hairpin worn by the girl. A piece of the girl's white dress, sticking out of the new earth, was all the clue the officers needed to the location of the body.

Particles of what looked like skin were found under the girl's finger nails, indicating that she had fought her assailants and scratched them in her desperate resistance.

The spade with which the murderer or murderers covered up the body of the victim was found near by. It was flecked with grain, showing that it had been stolen from some nearby farm. It may serve as a possible clue.

The police have ordered a round up of all the employees of the cemetery. They will be carefully examined for finger nail marks and closely questioned. It is the theory of the police that the girl was attacked by tramps or vagabonds, the vicinity of the cemetery where the body was found being a favorite meeting ground for vagabonds and criminals.

Miss Schumacher was about 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighed about 130 pounds. While she was seventeen years old, she looked about fifteen. She was the youngest of eight sisters and had two brothers.

CONNORS SUES COLLIER'S.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Papers will be filed here with the county clerk by the William J. Connors, chairman of the Democratic state committee, in a suit against the owners of Collier's Weekly for $100,000 damages because of an article published July 11, 1909, in which Mr. Connors alleges he is charged with various crimes, including "assault, secret murder, riot and conspiracy." An attorney has filed an answer for Collier's in which he denies there was any intention to bring the plaintiff into disgrace or that he has been injured.

TORREY SAVES MAN'S LIFE.

Evangelist Takes Heavy Spade Away From Enraged Hotel Guest.

Huntington Beach, Cal., Aug. 10.—That Clarence E. Willey, manager of the Huntington Inn, is under arrest instead of in an undertaking establishment or a hospital is due to the quickness and strength of Evangelist R. A. Torrey of Chicago. Willey was attacked yesterday in the lobby of his hotel by Daniel O'Connor, an enraged guest, who had armed himself with a heavy spade. Before O'Connor could seriously injure the hotel manager, Dr. Torrey, grappled with him and held him until assistance came. O'Connor was released, and Willey was arrested on a warrant charging him with selling liquor to guests.

MRS. BRADLEY WOULD BREAK VICTIM'S WILL

Demands for Her Children Half of the Estate of the Man Whom She Killed.

Washington, Aug. 10.—A sequel to the killing of ex-senator Arthur Brown of Utah by Mrs. Annie Bradley in the Raleigh hotel here a little more than two years ago will be disclosed soon when a contest for possession of a part of Brown's property will begin in the civil courts of Salt Lake City.

Brown's property is estimated at $125,000, and Mrs. Bradley means to make a fight for half of it for her two children, of whom Brown was the father.

Judge Orlando Powers, who defended Mrs. Bradley in the murder trial, which was one of the most sensational in the criminal annals of Washington, will make the fight for a share in Brown's estate on behalf of the two children.

Robert Wells and George P. Hoover, who were the Washington lawyers associated with Judge Powers, will go out to Salt Lake City to assist in the will contest.

Brown had two children by his first wife, a son and a daughter, both grown. Mrs. Bradley claimed, and proved that Brown was the father of her two young children, both boys, the elder of whom was named for Brown. Mrs. Bradley is now living in poverty near Salt Lake City, and is badly in need of funds for her own and her children's support.

Following her acquittal of the murder of Brown, Mrs. Bradley returned to her former home, with the assurance that she would be received there and given some assistance toward making her own living. When she reached Salt Lake City she found that sentiment against her because of her former relations with the slain senator had not changed, and she was unable to live in the comfort which she once enjoyed.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The department of Agriculture yesterday issued its monthly crop report, showing the condition of the crops on Aug. 1 last as follows:

Corn 84.1, against 92.3 July 1 last, 82.5 Aug. 1, 1908, and 82.8 Aug. 1, 1907. Winter wheat 90.3, against 90.1 Aug. 1 last year.

Spring wheat 91.6, against 92.7 July 1 last, 80.7 Aug. 1, 1908, and 79.4 Aug. 1, 1907.

Oats 85.5, against 88.3 a month ago, 70.8 Aug. 1, 1908, and 75.6 Aug. 1, 1907. According to the "old method" of figuring, the report indicates a winter wheat yield of 432,920,000 bushels, in comparison with 437,008,000 at harvest last year. The spring wheat figures suggest a yield of 290,377,000 bushels, compared with 284,256,000 bushels last month and 226,004,000 bushels at harvest last year. The indicated corn crop is 3,030,000 bushels, against 2,900,000 bushels last month and 2,685,651,000 bushels final last year. A yield of 1,027,700,000 bushels oats is expected, compared with 1,063,000,000 a month ago and 807,156,000 at harvest in 1908. The farm reserve of oats on Aug. 1 was 26,323,000 bushels, against 38,000,000 last year.

Wheat broke a cent a bushel on the Produce Exchange on receipt of the crop report, but corn held steady.

THE STRIKE UNBROKEN

Efforts to Settle the Swedish Difficulty Fail

STOPPING THE RAILWAYS

Is Now the Plan—Lack of Farm Hands Endangers Crop—Farmers Appeal to the Government for Help.

Stockholm, Aug. 10.—The opening of the second week of the labor troubles in Sweden shows no abatement of the conflict, and the men already on strike continue to augment their forces by the addition of sympathizers in other trades. A general strike of railroad men is threatened for Aug. 11. The Farmers association yesterday appealed to citizens of all classes to help them save the cereal crop, the harvesting of which is prevented by the strike of farm hands. The government supplemented this appeal by offering police protection to all persons assisting in the harvest. Street cars are running on time in the capital on all lines to Gothenburg, a seaport, and the second most important Swedish town, where the strikers have been replaced by strike breakers.

It was announced here yesterday that a delegate of the Central Federation of Trades Unions, named Tholin, will leave Stockholm shortly for the United States for the purpose of collecting contributions for the strike fund from Swedish-Americans.

The tie-up of business as a result of the general strike is so serious that King Gustave has intervened in an endeavor to secure a compromise. His majesty Sunday sent a message to the parties at conflict urging an early agreement and advising the arbitration of the disputed questions. After King Gustave's message had been read and approved at a cabinet meeting Saturday, his majesty summoned to the palace the two leaders of the warring factions, Director Von Sydow of the employers and Senator Lindquist, president of the Federation of Trades Unions, for a conference. Apparently his majesty's efforts were of slight effect, for Sunday night it was announced that the printers would strike yesterday and the National Labor Union issued a proclamation that beginning yesterday morning every dray or other wagon whose driver is not wearing a union permit badge will be stopped by the strikers. No exception, it was stated, would be made for owners driving their own wagons.

Over one thousand telephones and telegraph employees will strike Wednesday. The Employers' association is paying out $40,000 daily to support its weaker members. The cash in the association's treasury is sufficient to keep up this support for three weeks and when the funds in the treasury are exhausted, the association has a reserve fund of $4,500,000, which may be used.

The strikers daily are receiving large contributions from Denmark,
